3rd Health Programme

The Third EU Health Programme is the main instrument that the Commission uses to implement the EU Health Strategy. Annual work plans of the Programme set out priority areas and the criteria for its funding actions.

The total budget for the programme is € 449.4 million.

The programme has 4 overarching objectives which seek to:

1. Promote health, prevent diseases and foster supportive environments for healthy lifestyles taking into account the 'health in all policies' principle
2. Protect Union citizens from serious cross-border health threats

3. Contribute to innovative, efficient and sustainable health systems
4. Facilitate access to better and safer healthcare for Union citizens

Work Plan 2014 to implement the Third Health Programme has been published »

The annual work plan 2014 for the health programme was adopted on 26 May 2014.

„Healthy diet: Early years and Ageing Population" - 2014/1/17037714

The European population is getting older, but often not in good health and with reduced quality of life. Good nutrition and adequate physical activity have an important role to ensure that people not only can live longer, but also live healthy, active and independent lives. A balanced diet and adequate physical activity helps maintain or improve the health status of the individual, whether children, adult or elder and plays throughout whole life-span.

Malnutrition and lack of physical activity are still a common challenge at EU level and can and should be addressed intervening in several areas: screening, assessment, management and research and in different settings and target groups. The present call for proposals will support interventions related to healthy diet in early years and ageing population.

The following three priorities have been identified:

- 1) Promoting a balanced diet and adequate nutrition status in all ages.
- 2) Screening for nutritional status in older people.
- 3) Implementation of good practices in nutrition management in clinical and community settings.

The activities funded will be implemented within a period of no longer than 18 months.

4th Gender Summit – EU
Brussels, Belgium

The Gender Summit 4 - Europe 2014 (GS4EU) will, again, bring together experts from research, industry and policy to consider gender research evidence and the ways of improving the quality and impact of research and innovation through the inclusion of gender in science knowledge making and application.

The Programme will focus Horizon 2020, the current €80bn funding programme of the European Commission. GS4EU's Themes and Tracks will focus on the cross-cutting role of gender and how gender can be integrated within the different calls, through actions enhancing gender equality and through inclusion in research and innovation content. The GS4EU provides an early opportunity for H2020 applicants to explore with experts how gender can be best accommodated in their proposals.

28th ICAP International Congress of Applied Psychology (IAAP) 2014

Paris, France

The 28th ICAP, to be held in Paris in 2014, will be a privileged forum to share new scientific developments and to analyse the challenges and effective contributions that our science and profession offers to our societies.

I am sure that Paris will be an excellent platform and a great encounter place where psychologists from all over the world will find excellent opportunities to meet each other, make valuable progress in science and humanity, and also promote the visibility and strength of our discipline. All these are important reasons to participate in the Congress.

International Conference on Shared Parenting 2014

Bonn, Germany

The International Conference on Shared Parenting 2014 will gather delegates from across the world at the "Wissenschaftszentrum Bonn" on 9-11 July 2014 to discuss responses to the alarming increase in psycho-social and developmental problems among children whose parents are living apart. The event will be jointly chaired by the President of the newly established International Council on Shared Parenting (ICSP), Prof. Edward Kruk, MSW, PhD, University of British Columbia, Canada, and the Chair of the Scientific Committee of the conference, Prof. Dr. jur. Hildegund Sünderhauf, Lutheran University Nuremberg, Germany.

Experts in the field of shared parenting – both from science and family professions – are invited to present their research results and practical experience at the interdisciplinary conference under the theme "Bridging the Gap between Empirical Evidence and Socio-Legal Practice". The conference language is English, simultaneous translation will be provided in English, French and German.

22nd International Congress of the International Association for Cross Cultural Psychology

Equality, Diversity and Culture

Reims, France

It brings us together in an invitation to explore further some of the challenges of our world today: promoting equality between the people, respecting their diversity and their cultures. As a historic and historical town where the art-de-vivreis a delightful reminder of its cultural traditions, Reims is a pioneering city in terms of equality, diversity and culture whose richness is founded on three pillars: tradition, diversity and ambition.

July 15-18
36th International School Psychology Association (ISPA) Conference
Children's Rights and Needs: Challenges to School, Family and Society
Kaunas, Lithuania

2014 it will be the 25th anniversary of the United Nations Child Rights Convention. Thus, the scientific programme of the 36th ISPA conference is dedicated to the issues of children's rights in context of school psychology. We hope that this theme would encourage scientific discussions and presentations about positive children's development and education, stressing importance of collaboration between school, parents and society. We expect that such theme would be useful for all school psychologists from all over the world, because it addresses topics of children's needs, rights and educational challenges.
